

Rules and Regulations 2020

The following is a full listing of all rules and regulations governing the submission of a film to the 34rd Braunschweig International Film Festival, organized by the non-profit association Internationales Filmfest Braunschweig e.V. (hereafter called »the festival«), which apply to the individual awards-series and sections.

The person submitting the film (hereafter called the »submitter«) acknowledges that he or she has obtained consent from any and all owners, creators, writers, producers and/or other authorized representatives of the film and understands that by submitting the film to the festival he or she confirms that he or she has read and agreed to all rules and regulations set forth below.

I. General Rules and Regulations

§ 1 Runtime and genre

For short films a runtime of less than 15 minutes and for all feature films or documentaries a running time of at least 70 minutes is required. Submission is open to all film genres and no limitations are set on content. Exceptions can occur in individual series.

§ 2 General requirements

Submitted can be films for the cinema produced that were completed after the 1st of January 2019.

The film must not have been theatrically released, broadcasted on television in Germany or be available to purchase as DVD, Blu-ray or stream. Premieres (world /German-festival premieres) and productions out of 2020 will be first choice.

If the films language is not German, German or English subtitles are required.

§ 3 Submission

Submitters are highly encouraged to use the submission service supplied by the festival's homepage (via the database eventival.com). Other platforms will be available as well (see festival's homepage). Submissions via eventival.com are preferred and are cheaper than other submission platforms due to no additional administration costs.

To finalize the film's submission the submitter must ensure that the festival has received both a completely filled-in online entry form as well as a valid screener and the submission fee. The submitter receives a confirmation email after submitting a film.

§ 4 Screener

The submitter provides the festival with an online screener. This online screener has to be either password protected or a not listed link. Files to download are not accepted. Publicly available film links are excluded from the selection for the 34th Braunschweig International Film Festival.

The festival may hand the screeners to a third party for organizational or programming reasons (e.g. moderations or texts). By submitting the film the submitter permits the festival to do so. The online screener has to be available till the end of the selection process. The lifetime of passwords has to be guaranteed till September, 1st 2020. In case the festival selects the film for its programme, the access to the screener has to be guaranteed till the end of the festival.

§ 5 Language, subtitling

Films that are not originally in German language, have to be subtitled. The festival may produce German subtitles for projection copies at the festival's expense, especially in the case of films selected for the competition. In order to do that the festival has the permission to copy the film file and to add subtitles.

The submitter is not entitled to receive the copy. However, both parties may negotiate the hand over. If neither the submitter nor any of the distribution right's owners voice an interest in obtaining the copy until two weeks after the festival the copy will be destroyed.

§ 6 Exhibition format

The festival accepts digital video (DCP, ProRes, Blu-ray disc) and 35 mm. However, DCP is preferred.

§ 7 Projection copy

The film's projection copy must arrive in Braunschweig by 1st of October 2020 and will remain in Braunschweig until the end of the festival (9th of November 2020).

The transport cost for the projection copy is assumed by the submitter. The cost for returning the projection copy is assumed by the festival. The projection copy's transport to Braunschweig occurs at the submitter's own risk. The projection copy is insured at the copy's value while in Braunschweig as well as for the return transport after the festival. Damage claims must be submitted no later than 14 days after return. In case of damage the material costs for the copy will be refunded after presentation of the bill and at the value in the land of origin. A refund based on nonmaterial value is excluded. A DCP download can be discussed. The festival is obligated by its sponsors to act economical and eco-friendly, therefore a download is preferred.

§ 8 Additional material

The submitter will provide the festival with sufficient PR material (pictures, posters, press kits etc.). The transport cost for advertising and press material is assumed by the contributor.

§ 9 Participation notification

The festival will inform all submitters latest by September 30th, 2020 about the film's selection status. This could be either an invitation for the Official Selection, a rejection letter or a consideration for a later selection decision. The festival advises all submitters not to contact the festival organizers in order to receive information on the selection status. The submitters will be informed by email.

§ 10 Submission Fees & Deadlines

Due to rising numbers in submissions the festival raises submission fees to cover administrative costs as follows below. The festival grants no refunds under any circumstances (e.g. festival cancellation due to force majeure). Prices only apply for the festival's own submission service (Eventival). Submission prices and deadlines via other platforms may differ.

II. Film Sections and Competitions

A. Feature Films

§ 1 General Information

Films may be submitted to more than one section. The festival direction reserves the right to assign submitted films to other sections within the festival curation as well as to not select submitted films for the festival.

§ 2 Film sections

Feature films may be entered to the following sections directly:

(1) Competition (see also C. + D.)

Open to first and second feature films of European origin. The director must live and work in Europe or the film must be produced in Europe. The minimum runtime is 70 minutes. There are no limitations on content or genre. However, documentaries are excluded from participation. The film must not have been theatrically released, broadcasted on television in Germany or be available to purchase as DVD, Blu-ray or stream. German-festival or world premieres and films from the year 2020 will be first choice.

(2) Competition for the German-French Youth Award »KINEMA« (see also E.)

Open to first and second feature films, which have been produced for theatrical distribution (no TV productions) in either French or German language, can compete for the award. The minimum runtime is 70 minutes. There are no limitations on content or genre. However, documentaries are excluded from participation. The film must not have been theatrically released, broadcasted on television in Germany or be available to purchase as DVD, Blu-ray or stream. German-festival or world premieres and films from the year 2020 will be first choice.

(3) »HOME MATCH« (see also I.)

Open to all feature films from Braunschweig and the region. The minimum runtime is 50 minutes. There are no limitations on content or genre. Open to documentaries. The film must not have been theatrically released, broadcasted on television in Germany or be available to purchase as DVD, Blu-ray or stream. German-festival or world premieres and films from the year 2020 will be first choice.

(4) »General Feature Film submission«

Open to all films. The minimum runtime is 70 minutes. There are no limitations on content or genre. Open to documentaries. The film must not have been theatrically released, broadcasted on television in Germany or be available to purchase as DVD, Blu-ray or stream. German-festival or world premieres and films from the year 2020 will be first choice. Depending on the origin, language and content the festival will assign submissions to the festival's sections.

§ 3 Awards

The festival awards the following prizes

- Audience Award »DER HEINRICH« within the Competition (see also C.)
- Jury Award »VOLKSWAGEN FINANCIAL SERVICES FILMPREIS« within the Competition (see also D.)
- German-French Youth Award »KINEMA« (see also E.)
- »BRAUNSCHWEIGER FILMPREIS« for a German speaking newcomer actor/actress (see also F.)
- Women's Film Award »DIE TILDA« for a newcomer female director (see also G.)
- »GREEN HORIZONS AWARD« for the best film with the topic on sustainability (see also H.)
- »HEIMSPIEL FILMPREIS« for the best film with a regional reference (see also I.)

The festival direction reserves the right to amend the number as well as the conditions of awards according to agreements with partners, sponsors and patrons. The selection and participation of a film in the current festival edition does not instantly entail the nomination for any or all of the awards mentioned above.

II. Film Sections and Competitions

B. Short Films

§ 1 General Information

Films are submitted with the mention of genres/themes. The festival direction reserves the right to assign submitted films together into sections within the festival curation as well as to not select submitted films for the festival.

§ 2 Film sections

All Short films may be submitted for the category »General short film submissions« or the section »HOME MATCH«

(1) »General short film submissions«

Open to all short films with a maximum runtime of 15 minutes. Open to documentaries. German-festival or world premieres and films from the year 2020 will be first choice

(2) »HOME MATCH«

Open to all films from Braunschweig and the region with a maximum runtime of 49 minutes that have not yet been theatrically released, broadcasted on television in Germany or be available to purchase as DVD, Blu-ray or stream. Submitted may be short films that fulfill at least one of the following characteristics:

- a. Filmmaker from Braunschweig and the region
- b. Graduate of an university/college in the region
- c. Created in the region
- d. Filmed in/at locations in the region Braunschweig
- e. referrers to the region Braunschweig or some historical event, person or place connected to it

The festival will decide on exceptions. There are no limitations on production country, language content or genre. Open to documentaries. German-festival or world premieres and films from the year 2020 will be first choice.

C. Audience Award »DER HEINRICH« within the Competition

§ 1 The Award

The festival organizes the competition and awards the Audience Award »DER HEINRICH«. A price of EUR 10,000 is awarded as result of the audience vote. The price is equally divided between the director and the German distributor (or production company on condition that the winning film at the time of the award has not been distributed in Germany and that the German distribution rights will not be sold in the foreseeable future). The distribution share is bound to distribution measures on the German market. The prize money for the director is paid less the foreigner tax applicable in Germany.

§ 2 Participation and Submission

Open to first and second feature films of European origin. The director must live and work in Europe or the film must be produced in Europe. The minimum running time is 70 minutes.

There are no limitations on content or genre. However, documentaries are excluded from participation. The film must not have been theatrically released, broadcasted on television in Germany or be available to purchase as DVD, Blu-ray or stream. German-festival or world premieres and films from the year 2020 will be first choice.

§ 3 Film Selection

The festival will form a selection committee, which will nominate 10 artistically outstanding films for the competition.

§ 4 Presentation and Presence of Film Team

All films taking part in the competition will be shown thrice. Further screenings out of competition are possible. The festival reserves the right to repeat the winning film. Every competition film has to be introduced by at least one member of the film team (director, producer or actor). The presence of the guests is also expected at the award ceremony. Travel and hotel costs will be assumed in the usual manner by the festival (all bookings will be effectuated by the festival).

§ 5 The Winning Film

The audience ballots determine the winner.

§ 6 Waiver of Film Rental

Rental costs will not be paid for any selected competition film. The festival, however, assumes all expenses related to the realization of the competition, including guest invitation, guest travelling and accommodation expenses.

§ 7 Language, subtitling

Films that are not originally in German language, have to be subtitled. The festival may produce German subtitles for projection copies at the festival's expense. In order to produce the subtitled copy for the festival screening the festival has the permission to copy the film file and to add subtitles.

The submitter provides the festival with the necessary files to produce the subtitles such as a DKDM and ensures that the festival has all the required permissions without charge. The submitter is not entitled to receive the copy. However, both parties may negotiate the hand over. If neither the submitter nor any of the distribution right's owners voice an interest in obtaining the copy until two weeks after the festival the copy will be destroyed.
